Following recent upgrades at Braunschweig-Wolfsburg Airport, Sylt Airport in Germany has replaced its paper control strips with the Focus SE Electronic Flight Strip System (AFSS) from Delair Air Traffic Systems. The newly developed Focus SE solution is based on the Focus system which has been in operation at large airports for many years. Delair said that special attention was directed to a solution which was less complex but covered all the specific requirements of regional airports regarding the processing of mixed traffic (VFR/IFR). #922.ATC4
